

Harry Lauder's buying you a drink

Read his invitation—

Dear Mr. Liebmanns:

When I first tasted Good Old Scotch Brew, here in New York, the wonderful taste took me back to my own bonnie Scotland.

Now I want every man and woman in New York to drink a bottle of Good Old Scotch Brew on me!

This excellent brew is one more bond between America and the land of my birth. I am glad that America's leading malt drink comes from Scotland - and that Scotland's finest malt drink is the most popular - allowed by the law - in America.

Will you kindly arrange the details so that every one of my friends in New York may taste Good Old Scotch Brew as my guest?

Cordially yours,

Harry Lauder

So here's how!

As Sir Harry's guest, you are invited to drink a bottle of Good Old Scotch Brew. FREE with your lunch or dinner. In the hotels, clubs and restaurants of New York, on Wednesday, November 22d.

Drink a toast to Harry Lauder with a drink of the good old days. A malt and hops brew, made by a rare Scotch formula that dates back to 1740 —yet within the law!
